No negatives about my college. All the things provided by SIMCA are really very good. It is the only college which works only 5 days in a week. We have got ample of time to study and do fun as well.

College is almost good .this for those who want only masters but no placement .if you also want to get placed in any company need only degree ur welcome. The management is worst the nonteaching staff doesn't know how to talk with students especially the admission office. I here declare whatever I have seen and suffered I presented my view about this college to you, not it's your choice to go to heaven like symbiosis or choose hell. I was misguided and helpless so I came here means I got fewer marks in a snap so please students appear for snap sincerely.

SIMCA college management is good. They take maximum efforts to invite companies. They have separate placement cells for MBA and MCA courses.

The only problem is that is on the outskirts of the city. You will have to travel a bit for going out with your friends, the roads leading to the college might not be as per expectations.

The MBA applicants are required to achieve at least 50 percent in their bachelor's degree. And fortunately, I secured 80% in my graduation and my overall academic performance was pretty good. Hence, my eligibility was matching the requirement of the Bharathidasan School of Management.
